

THE ANH BINH ISLAND TOUR BY BOAT

Anh Binh island is located in the midst of the Mekong River, 45 minutes each way by boat from the Lodge. It is also an ideal way to explore the Mekong River, because while on the boat in transit to the island, you will witness, among other things, the beauty and the versatility of artistic styles on Vietnamese merchant wood vessels with their big, hand-painted eyes!

Anh Binh Island is famous for its natural beauty and its large diversity of fruit trees. We encourage tour participants to bring along their bicycles on the boat and explore the islands by means thereof upon arrival.

A "so-so" local restaurant is available on the island for the desperately hungry.

The boat driver will wait for you at the docking station while you tour the island. The tour includes a maximum three-hour waiting period.

For the botanically curious, and at an additional cost and subject to a two-day pre-booking, a knowledgeable Vietnamese farmer and translator may accompany your tour to explain to you the different fruit trees in great detail.

Dong 600,000 per trip (4 to 5 hours / any number of persons)
